I used to wonder if life changed
When death stepped in and disarranged
The pattern of our work and love.
Now I know. Around, above,
Life pulses strong, for he is here.
His goal in life remains as clear
Within our hearts. He is as dear.
And still today, when joy grows dim,
He comforts us as we do him.

Tschaikowsky

Invocation—

THE REVEREND PAUL LEE STURGES
Pastor of the Redlands First Baptist Church

“O, How Lovely is Thy Dwelling” Vetter-Bach

THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR

O how lovely is Thy dwelling,
Lord of heav'n and Lord of men!
How I long, beyond all telling,
There to come, nor leave again;

Better far one day in heaven,
Than to dwell in courts of sin;
Better far a humble station,
Than ne'er to enter in.

Ne'er my heart from Thee be riv'n,—
Praise and laud to Thee be giv'n
Blessed they who reach Thy mansions,
And enjoy those bright expansions.

Give us light and grace and strength,
That we go to Thee at length.
O how joyous in Thy dwelling
Thy sweet praise for aye be telling.

Hebrews 11, Selections—
